Matters Arising, Rye Cemetery, Resolution (establishing why unmarked graves cannot be moved and requesting that RDC considers seeking an amendment to the Local Authorities' Cemeteries Order 1997). Further information: Under the Order willful interference with any grave is an offence. In 2007 the previous Government consulted on a proposal to dig up coffins up to 75 years old and bury them deeper to allow 1+ additional burials ('stacking'). This was somewhat controversial and has not been progressed. If Members wish to pursue any amendments to the Order it would be more appropriate to take up the matter with Amber Rudd.
